Adrian Gee-Turner	Lib Dem	I believe Legal Aid plays a key role to the access to law and would kiddy for its adequate funding. I studied law doing my CIM Certificates and have a Law Society recognised qualification in commercial law which has taught me I need to use lawyers. I feel the law is the balance to the giver many executive and plays an essential role in democracy so countenance during the drawing up of legislation is critical for good legislation. I believe the Reform Bill will be a case in point. I sign all my European dealers' commercial agreements with English and Wales law as the governing law for the reasons you detail. I am and anti-Brexit and would do everything I can to maintain access to the EU.
